NORTH SHORE HEALTH DEPARTMENTDid you know?

For many Americans, the end of the year brings images of happy families celebrating holiday traditions, shared dinners, seasonal music, and cozy fires. For others, the holidays can be a much more difficult time – a time of family conflict, financial strain, loneliness, grief, and seasonal affective disorder. If you find the holidays tough, you are certainly not alone. Studies show that cases of depression and drunk driving crashes both increase during the holiday period.

Unfortunately, many of these are tied to alcohol and drug abuse, typically engaged in by people who are trying to cope with holiday blues.

If you or someone you know are struggling with alcohol or drug use/abuse, the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) has launched a new initiative to make it easier to find help: the Wisconsin Addiction Recovery Helpline. Staffed by trained information and referral specialists, the free and confidential Helpline is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and connects residents with local resources using a database of both public and private programs. Call 2-1-1, text your zip code to 898211, or visit www.AddictionHelpWI.org for more information or to search for providers.
